

Contents

FOREWORD/ vii

PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION/ ix

PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION/ xi

INTRODUCTION/ 1

- 1 Economic Activity in Estancia/ 5
- 2 Increasing Per-capita Productivity/ 15
- 3 Improvements in Fishing Technology/ 26
- 4 Commercial Fishing and Wage Labor/ 37
- 5 Family Businesses and Corporate Enterprises/ 54
- 6 Patterns of Income Distribution/ 66
- 7 Social Structure, Culture, and the Pattern of Economic Growth/ 90
- 8 Estancia Revisited, 1974/ 117

NOTES/ 129

REFERENCES/ 132

INDEX/ 135

Map 1: Location map showing Estancia and its fishing grounds/ xiv

Figure 1: An ideal model of lowland Philippine social structure/ 96

Plates

- 1 A view of town and bay/ 17
- 2 The municipio/ 17
- 3 A new rural-bank/ 18
- 4 A fisheries vocational high school/ 18
- 5 Basnigan/ 51
- 6 Largarete, kubkuban, and pambot/ 51
- 7 Vinta/ 52
- 8 Bangkà/ 52

- 9 Marketing at dawn/ 69
- 10 Negotiating fish sales/ 69
- 11 Spreading fish on capel/ 70
- 12 Seaside fish-drying racks/ 70
- 13 Sari-sari store/ 87
- 14 Dried fish at the marketplace/ 87
- 15 An "ice drop" vendor/ 88
- 16 Fish dealer settling accounts/ 88
- 17 Houses of a commercial fish-outfit owner, a fish dealer, and a fisherman/ 106
- 18 The Roman Catholic Church/ 107
- 19 Church buildings of the Seventh Day Adventists, the Evangelical Baptists, and the Philippine Independent Church/ 106-107

Tables

- 1 Approximate weight and value of fish marketed
in Estancia, 1966 and 1967/ 19
- 2 Population and per-hectare population density of selected population units, 1903-1960/ 21
- 3 Total population supported by the three sectors of Estancia's economy, 1903-1960/ 22
- 4 Adult population residing in Estancia's core community in 1967, classified by place of birth/ 24
- 5 Occupational distribution of families in Estancia core community and coastal island barrios, 1967/ 39
- 6 Sharing systems of Estancia's commercial-fishing outfits:
sapyáw, (1900-1926) and kubkuban (1929-1939)/ 41

- 7 Sharing systems of Estancia's commercial-fishing outfits:
basnigan (1935-1968), lawagán (1935-1968) and largarete (1950-1968)/ 44
- 8 Traditional and current sharing systems in Estancia
(in pesos)/ 50
- 9 Exchange relationship between fish dealer and fisherman over 10-week and one-year periods (in pesos)/ 58
- 10 Percentage of total family income per month received by each fifth of the families in Estancia (June 1966-June 1967), Balasan, Concepcion (January-June 1967), and the entire nation (1965)/ 68
- 11 Core community families classified by total monthly income and by sex of main source of that income, crossclassified by the latter's primary occupation
(May, 1967)/ 72
- 12 Estancia core community families, individuals and monthly income classified by religious affiliation (June, 1967)/ 83
- 13 Estancia core community household heads classified by religious affiliation, crossclassified by primary occupation (June, 1967)/ 86