

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF PSYCHOLOGY
JOURNAL INTERNATIONAL DE PSYCHOLOGIE

Quarterly

Published by the
International Union of Psychological Science

The International Journal of Psychology, is devoted to cross-cultural comparisons of psychological phenomena in all fields of general psychology, child psychology, and social psychology. It is also devoted to international confrontation of theories and methods on which psychologists from various countries differ because of their native culture and formation. Oriented towards basic research and theory, it publishes scientific papers in English and French. In each issue, the International Platform for Psychologists gives information on internationally significant problems.
