

The Philippine Population Association (PPA) is a non-stock, non-profit, non-partisan, and non-sectarian organization of professionals engaged in population and related activities. It seeks to promote a scientific base for addressing population and related issues through research and dissemination, training and extension and keeps population issues at the forefront of public consciousness. Membership in the PPA is open to professionals and students.

The Philippine Population Review (PPR) is the official journal of the Philippine Population Association and is published annually. The PPR is a peer-reviewed journal.
