PSR is up to date! In 1972, we bring you

LAND REFORM AS IT IS

PSR 20: (1-2) JANUARY-APRIL 1972

● CAN LAND REFORM SUCCEED?

Dr. Basilio de los Reyes, director of the Nueva Ecija Land Reform Integrated Development Program (NELRIDP) since July 1970, assesses its achievements and lays praise and blame at appropriate doors.

Commentators: Jose Drilon, Jr., director of the Southeast Asian Regional Center for Graduate Study and Research in Agriculture (SEARCA); David Christenson, USAID land reform adviser working in Nueva Ecija; Assa Marom, Israeli expert in Moshav organization and management, currently in General Ricarte, Nueva Ecija; and Akira Takahashi, geographer studying Central Luzon rice-producing communities.

● RELUCTANT REBELS

A 1971 study of 1000 rice farmers (owners, lessees, share tenants) and 75 landlords by Romana Pahilanga-de los Reyes and Frank Lynch of the Institute of Philippine Culture.

● TWO VIEWS OF THE KASAMA-LESSEE SHIFT IN BULACAN

Akira Takahashi and Brian Fegan compare notes on what is happening in the villages where they resided and studied in 1971-72. Takahashi thinks that leasehold is making committed farmers of share tenants. Fegan, an anthropologist from Yale University, thinks otherwise. Takahashi, writing from the University of Tokyo, adds a rejoinder.

● BETWEEN THE LORD AND THE LAW: TENANTS' DILEMMAS

In a separate article, Brian Fegan presents the grassroots, mud-dipped, flat-bellied reaction to land reform in Central Luzon — a concrete portrayal of the typical landlord-tenant relationship, and the squeeze it puts on the kasama.

● DOES GRASSROOTS ACTION LEAD TO AGRARIAN REFORM?

English historian Jim Richardson reviews the record of accomplishments that protest can claim in the Philippines.

● LAND REFORM IN THE PHILIPPINES: AN OVERVIEW

Anthropologist Francis J. Murray writes a summary statement reviewing the available literature on land reform.

● AN ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY ON LAND REFORM

Normando de Leon and Linda Salcedo present a 100-item, uniformly annotated bibliography on land reform in the Philippines.

● IRRIGATION SOCIETIES

In "The Sampler" section, we reproduce generous selections from Ilocano Rice Farmers, by Henry T. Lewis. For a review of this book see PSR 19 (1-2).

● OTHER GOODIES

Alternative outlines for teaching a 10-hour course in land reform, Questions for discussion, Glossary, Table of equivalents for use in the rural setting, Research Notes and Communications.

This fact-packed, down-to-earth double issue is suitable as a text to balance the more common legal and moral approaches to land reform.
