

DR. SALVADOR ARANETA

The Secretary of Agriculture and Natural Resources, Dr. Salvador Araneta, made a study of current economic problems, which was the subject of his address delivered last January at the Malacañan Park; he was one of the two Members of the Cabinet who addressed the Second Annual Conference of the Philippine Statistical Association held then.

The address of Dr. Araneta is published in the present issue of this Journal. Since last January, Dr. Araneta has published subsequent studies on the devaluation of the currency, and the revision of the minimum wage law.

Secretary Araneta is well known in our country as one of the very few public men who are masters of theoretical and applied economics.
