

Philippine Sociological Review

Official Journal of the Philippine Sociological Society

Volume 56

January-December 2008

PREFACE	iii
Changing the Discourse on Return Migrants: Cosmopolitanism and the Reintegration of Return Filipino Migrant Domestic Workers Andrea Soco	1
Negotiated Homelands and Long-Distance Nationalism: Serialized Filipino Identity in Japan Jorge V. Tigno	20
Filipino Austrians: Transforming Identities and Changing Selfhood Under Conditions of Migration Gisela M. Reiterer	36
Being Indian in Post-colonial Metro Manila: Ethnic Identities, Class, Race and the Media Jozon A. Lorenzana	56
Children Watching Children: How Filipino Children Represent and Receive News Images of Suffering Jonathan C. Ong	80
If I Were in Her Shoes, I Would Doubtless Be and Think Like Her: Methodological Reflections on Bourdieu and Testimonio Chester C. Arcilla	107
A Reflection on Social Transformations and Social Institutions Virginia A. Miralao	132